STATE FARM[®] HALL OF BUSINESS

At Illinois State University, we want students to discover and develop their individual interests and passions. We want our students to take those passions and achieve a level of personal growth beyond what they ever thought possible. Illinois State is our passion and our business. Our goal remains to be the first choice for business education in Illinois.

Message from the Katie School of Insurance and Risk Management Executive Director

As Executive Director of the Katie School of Insurance and Risk Management at Illinois State University, I would like to thank you for your investment in the future of the insurance industry. In addition to honoring our laureate, and other honorees at this esteemed event, your support helps to attract and develop the next generation of insurance leaders. The funds received from this event will provide scholarships and programming activities to help attract top talent and provide the Katie School with resources to continue to develop students at the velocity of change. Since its inception in 1991, the Katie School has helped support more than 3,400 students who graduated from Illinois State University and entered the insurance industry. Each year the Katie School provides support for more than 300 risk management and insurance (RMI) students, undergraduate and graduate actuarial students, as well as other students interested in insurance careers.

The Katie School also reaches out to high school students and provides them with innovative risk and insurance experiences to help them better understand the industry. The Katie School creates and funds unique learning opportunities for a broad array of students. Tonight's Hall of Fame event focuses on the accomplishments and service of leaders in the risk and insurance field. The challenges of our current times highlight the importance of leaders who can help us navigate through times of risk and uncertainty.

Our 2024 laureate is Timothy W. Turner, CEO Ryan Specialty, Chairman RT Specialty. Turner is an international leader in the insurance industry, and he has set an inspiring example for the next generation with his outstanding contributions to the insurance industry, his work with charities, and support for educating the next generation. The proceeds from tonight's event go to two causes: the Katie School program to run all of our activities for attracting and developing the students at Illinois State University interested in careers in risk management and insurance, and to Timothy W. Turner's Impact Fund, which is targeted to diverse students from Chicago area high schools and early college students, to help attract them to the industry.

Mark Willis, former AIG executive, is honored in memorial. Mark was a tireless advocate for bringing talent into the insurance industry. He served as chair of the Katie School board, and it is his leadership that provided us the encouragement and support to begin the Katie School Hall of Fame. Mark was much beloved by all those who knew and worked with him, and his loss is tremendous.

Our Young Leader award winner is Megan Smalter, an Illinois State University, Katie School graduate. Megan is a Private Company Management Liability Underwriter at CNA Insurance. Megan is a mentor to students and younger graduates and serves numerous leadership roles in the insurance industry, including the President of Rising Risk Professionals through Chicago RIMS, President of Insurance Associates, a committee member of the Future PLUS Mentorship Taskforce, and an active member of the Association of Professional Insurance Women. She has completed her Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriter (CPCU) and Registered Professional Liability Underwriter (RPLU) designations.

The leaders we honor tonight are an inspiration to all and an example for the next generation of risk management and insurance leaders.

About the Katie School of Insurance and Risk Management

Since 2010, I have served on the Katie School Advisory Board of Executives. As an employer and an alumnus of Illinois State University, I appreciate what the Katie School does in preparing students for the industry. The Katie School of Insurance and Risk Management at Illinois State University is a unique center of educational excellence. The Katie School was established in 1991 and helps to prepare over 300 students annually for careers in insurance, risk management, and actuarial science. The Katie School provides scholarships to attract top students and works with students and faculty to help develop “ready to go” graduates for the insurance industry.

The Katie School has set the standard for how to prepare students for the insurance industry by offering customized curriculum, industry connections, and cutting-edge courses. The Katie School’s distinguishing hallmark is its connection to industry. That is unique. It works with the officers in Gamma Iota Sigma to bring over 90 industry speakers to campus each year. Through Katie School support, students attend numerous industry conferences where they participate in sessions and network with industry professionals. The Katie School is well-known for its global perspective and fully funds international internships in London, Bermuda, Zurich, and other countries on an annual basis.

The Katie School recognizes that the next-generation insurance workforce will not only need technical knowledge but will also need to leverage that expertise through critical thinking, negotiation skills, communication, and collaboration. To better address these requirements, the school has designed workshops, seminars, and one-on-one instruction to teach students these critical soft skills that have become differentiators in the digital age.

The Katie School works with leaders in the insurance industry to set students up with research projects tackling the latest emerging hazards and challenges that are present in the risk management environment. Some of these students have gone on to present their research to industry leaders at board meetings and at industry symposia. Students working with the Katie School understand that the value of their college education goes well beyond credentialing.

The Katie School provides support for high school programs including a weeklong program, Redbird Risk Management, where students learn to manage the risks associated with a business. The program includes additional focus on inclusion efforts meant to attract a diverse pool of potential students to the Katie School of Insurance that may not otherwise be considering academic pursuits that would lead to career potential in the insurance industry. The Katie School believes in lifelong learning and offers programs for industry professionals across the country. Additionally, networking for alumni outings and all industry at events such as the Katie School Golf Classic and this Katie School Hall of Fame are promoted. The Katie School is a good steward of the funds provided, and details of how the funds are used can be found on the next page of this program.

ILLINOIS STATE UNIVERSITY'S METRICS OF EXCELLENCE

HIGH RETENTION AND GRADUATION RATES

Illinois State students complete their degrees on time. ISU's retention rate remains among the highest in the nation at over 81.3 percent, and our high graduation rate (66.3 percent) is well above the national average.

RECORD FUNDRAISING

Illinois State University raised more than $35.4 million in private support, reaching its third highest private support total in university history. Through these donations, more than 4,474 scholarships were awarded last fiscal year and 85 new scholarships were created.

FIRST-CHOICE INSTITUTION

Illinois State has welcomed our largest freshman class in history. We enroll more than 21,500 students, while maintaining academic quality and small class sizes.

TOP PUBLIC UNIVERSITY

Washington Monthly ranked the University in the top 106 out of all public national universities for the institution's contribution to the public good through social mobility, research, and public services. Illinois State made U.S. News & World Report's 2024 rankings of America's top public schools, at No. 112. In addition, the University was ranked in the upper echelon of Money's 2024 list of Best Colleges in America for quality education and affordability.

DIVERSE CAMPUS

Illinois State provides accessible opportunity and increasingly reflects the nation's changing demographics. We enrolled our most diverse freshman class in school history this year with 41 percent of these students and nearly 32 percent of the total student population coming from traditionally underrepresented groups.

CIVICALLY ENGAGED CAMPUS

Illinois State's campuswide commitment to our core value of civic engagement has earned us recognition with the Elective Classification for Community Engagement, as an Excellence and Innovation Award for Civic Learning and Community Engagement recipient, and as a Voter Friendly Campus.

BANG FOR THE BUCK

Illinois State is ranked among the top universities for return on investment. U.S. News & World Report recognized the University as one of the Best Value Schools in the nation, and Washington Monthly included the University on the Best Bang for the Buck list in the Midwest. In addition, the University was also ranked among the top 30 percent of four-year higher education institutions for graduates' return on investment.

Message from the College of Business Dean

On behalf of the College of Business at Illinois State University, I welcome you to the Katie School Hall of Fame Innovation and Leadership Awards event. The Katie School excels in preparing students for successful careers in risk management and insurance, and exemplifies the core values of the College of Business. These values include excellence in instruction and learning, dedication to knowledge creation, commitment to citizenship in and service to our institution, state, and nation, and maintenance of high ethical standards in our professional and personal lives.

The gold standard for colleges of business in the U.S. is accreditation by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB). There are over 10,000 business colleges in the country from among whom less than 800 are accredited by AACSB for business degree programs. From among this group of 800, less than 200 are also accredited by AACSB for accounting degree programs. It is a matter of pride that our business college is among the elite group of 2 percent of colleges in the nation accredited by AACSB in both business and accounting.

The mission of Illinois State University's College of Business is, through commitment to excellence in learning, to prepare students to become skilled business professionals who think critically, behave ethically, and make significant contributions to organizations, communities, and our global society.

The strategic trajectory of the college is guided by academic innovation, community engagement and impactful business education. This strategy is regularly updated in consultation with all our stakeholders including students, faculty, staff, alumni, employers, and the larger business community. The college has a dynamic Business Advisory Council consisting of business leaders representing most major industries in the Midwest. The college is proud of the academic quality of its degree programs in accounting, finance, insurance and law, management and marketing. The college is home to outstanding service centers including the Means Center for Entrepreneurial Studies, Institute for Financial Planning and Analysis, Varner International Business Institute, Organizational Leadership Institute, Professional Sales Institute, and, of course, the Katie School.

Our major in Risk Management and Insurance has been consistently ranked in the top 10 in the U.S. and is recognized as a top program in industry engagement and co-curricular talent development. The International Insurance Society has recognized Illinois State University to be a Global Center of Insurance Excellence. The Katie School supports the actuarial science program, which is recognized as a Center for Actuarial Excellence.

I commend the leadership of the Katie School for providing outstanding learning opportunities in risk management and insurance for our students. I applaud you for your professional accomplishments and thank you for sharing your valuable time with us on this special occasion.
