Description of Opportunity

The Underwriter Associate will join our industry-recognized training program, learning how to navigate a wide array of underwriting and marketing functions, gaining knowledge and competence in both client relationship management and technical underwriting skills. With the support of their team, manager and mentor, the Underwriter Associate will develop key underwriting skills including using both proprietary tools and external resources to analyze, evaluate and set terms and pricing for complex exposures. The Underwriter Associate will also network corporately, learning to leverage the company's substantial resources to provide a best-in-class response to our valued clients.

Through both classroom and on-the-job experiences, our Associates progress toward the Underwriter role with opportunities to work on live accounts, develop their own client relationships and advance their understanding of the insurance industry overall and how GenStar continues to work toward meeting the evolving needs of the E&S marketplace. Each of our offices serves a multi-state region of the country, with opportunities to travel for client visits, industry networking events and educational seminars.

Preferred Skills

- Undergraduate college degree
- Suggested Majors: Business, Marketing, Liberal Arts, Risk Management
- Prior intern experience and/or professional experience desirable
- Strong analytical and critical thinking skills
- Strong verbal and written communication skills
- Enthusiastic team player / self-starter
