

Mike Lavazza

Company Name: COUNTRY Insurance and Financial Services

Current Job Title: Actuarial Analyst in the Actuary Research & Systems area.

Job Description & A Typical Day:

I spend most of my time in a typical day reading through the ISO manuals determining the correct rating procedures and applications. I'm then responsible for programming this rating algorithm into the rating portion of the policy application administration system. I spend some time debugging the program of errors found in different stages of testing.
