BERMUDA SUMMER INTERNSHIP 2016

The Katie School of Insurance and Financial Services is sponsoring two internships in Bermuda for three weeks during late May to mid-June 2016 for two Katie School/Illinois State University students. The students will receive a tremendous experience in the Bermuda insurance marketplace and learn about different facets of the industry.

The Katie School will cover costs including airfare, lodging, meals, and bus/ferry transportation. Each student will receive funding to cover incidental expenses. The student interns will receive University credit when all requirements are completed and the Katie School will also pay the tuition for this course.

The internship in the Bermuda market will provide the students with experiences including:

- Shadowing brokers and underwriters plus seeing the claims, finance, regulatory and investment aspects of the Bermuda market
- Visiting with a captive management company
- Meeting with law firms to learn about the ease of the incorporation of companies in Bermuda
- Learning more about the reinsurance segment of the industry
- Developing networking skills by interacting with many industry professionals on a daily basis
- Experiencing a new cultural environment
- Interacting with Bermudian students who will also be participating in the internship

STUDENT ELIGIBILITY

- Completion or enrollment in FIL 250 – Introduction to Insurance and Risk Management
- Currently completing junior year at Illinois State University
- Pursuing a career in the Insurance and Risk Management industry
- Minimum of a 3.0 GPA
- Preference given to students with an Insurance major or minor and are active Gamma Iota Sigma members

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

- The student will be required to prepare a research paper on the Bermuda market prior to his/her departure for Bermuda.
- The student will make a presentation to the Bermuda sponsoring organizations and also present to small groups on the ISU campus during the 2016-2017 academic year.
- The student will represent the Katie School of Insurance and Financial Services with the highest degree of professionalism.
- The student will attend all planned events as outlined by the internship schedule each day.
- The student will send thank-you notes to all company contacts each week during the internship.
- The student will email a weekly recap of each week's activities during the internship to Debbie Babcock.

Any interns failing to meet the responsibilities will not receive credit for the internship and will reimburse the Katie School for all costs incurred including transportation, lodging and meals.
